Principal Quinn's Corner

First of all, I want to thank the amazing team that put together the Black History STEAM night. It was so much fun. Thanks to Sam Jones, Sadiqa Williams, Laura Prival, Megan Low, Britt Anderson, Lizzy Vlasses, Kourtney Wagner, Ms. Smith, and the many other people who worked behind the scenes to make such a wonderful event.

Second of all, I am sending a separate letter about the upcoming teachers' strike. I will be visiting every classroom on Tuesday to check in with students and answer their questions as best I can. When I was in 2nd grade my teachers went on strike. I remember going to the school board offices and picketing with my family, teachers, and neighbors. I don't remember the moment it ended, but it obviously did, and we got back to normal. This may be difficult for us now, but it will pass. My priority is to be here for our students -- now and later. They are my why, and whenever this job gets tough (believe me, it gets tough!) I just go into a classroom and anchor myself in our mission: to raise thriving, compassionate, and skilled young people.
